

New Approaches: delivering learning services for adults

Jane Ward
Senior Programme Director

Why adult learning?

- Enhances lives
- Supports service delivery
- Supports national indicators

A New Approach to ESOL

- Local priorities
- Local authority leadership
- Assess local need
- Local ESOL Action plans
- Partnership approach
- Align ESOL with other services

Benefits of A New Approach to ESOL

- Employment and skills
- Health and well being
- Schools achievement
- Safe communities and crime reduction
- Stronger communities

The Learning Revolution

- Informal adult learning
- New leadership role for local authorities
- Planning and infrastructure
- Partnerships
- Opening up spaces for learning
- Self organised groups
- Flexibility and deregulation

Benefits of Informal adult learning

- Health and well being
- Support for local democracy
- Stronger communities
- Citizenship
- Arts, museums and libraries
- Economic development and skills

Sustainability and climate change

- Raising awareness and understanding
- Changing consumption patterns
- Participation in environmental decision making
- Skills for a low carbon economy

Making it happen

- Local learning ecologies
- Stronger local powers
- Local authority strategic role
- Broad local infrastructure to improve access to learning
- Finance